DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Applicant is advised that should claim 2 be found allowable, claim 3 will be objected to under 37 CFR 1.75 as being a substantial duplicate thereof. When two claims in an application are duplicates or else are so close in content that they both cover the same thing, despite a slight difference in wording, it is proper after allowing one claim to object to the other as being a substantial duplicate of the allowed claim. See MPEP § 706.03(k).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-3, 5-6, 8-10 and 13-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Komatsu et al (US Patent 6,379,443)

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Komatsu et al teach an ink composition comprising at least a colorant, a water-soluble organic solvent, water and at least one compound represented by formula (I):

wherein EO is an ethyleneoxy group; PO is an propyleneoxy group; m and n are each an integer, k is a natural number of 1 or more; and R is C_kH_{2k+1} wherein k is a natural number of 4 to 18 (col. 2 lines 1-20). The reference further teaches that the R group may be butyl, pentyl, hexyl, heptyl, octyl, nonyl and decyl groups (col. 3 lines 1-4).

Formula (I) may be present in the ink composition as a mixture of two or more compound of formula (I) (col. 3 lines 12-13). The compounds of formula (I) have an average molecular weight of 1,000 to 8,000 (col. 3 lines 29-35). The colorant present in the ink composition may be a pigment, which may be dispersed without the aid of a dispersant (col. 6 lines 5-10). The water-soluble organic solvents may be (di) propylene glycol monobutyl ether or di (tri) ethylene glycol monobutyl ether (col. 6 lines 11-13 and col. 8 lines 39-65). The reference discloses that the ink composition may further comprise a surfactant, preferably amphoteric surfactants and nonionic surfactants (col. 9 lines 32-60). The reference also discloses a ink jet recording method wherein the ink composition is ejected and deposited onto a recording medium (col. 10 lines 22-51). The composition as taught by Komatsu et al appears to anticipate the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim 7 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Komatsu et al (US Patent 6,379,443).

The applied reference has a common inventor with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR

Art Unit: 1755

1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).

Komatsu et al is described above, but fails to teach the ratio set forth in claim 7. However, it is the position of the Examiner that with the values of $m = 1$ to 10 and $n = 1$ to 5 as defined on col. 3 line 37 that one of ordinary skill in the art would be able to arrive at the ratio of $n/m \leq 0.5$, absent evidence to the contrary.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The references alone or in combination fail to teach that T of formula (I) is SO_3M in view of the rest of the claim limitations.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 1755

The remaining references listed on form 892 have been reviewed by the Examiner and are considered to be cumulative to or less material than the prior art references relied upon in the above rejections.
